Part II Organizational Action Attach additional statements if needed. See back of form for additional questions.

14 Describe the organizational action and, if applicable, the date of the action or the date against which shareholders' ownership is measured for the action ▶ SunocoCorp LLC (“SUNC”) paid a quarterly cash distribution on Aug. 19, 2026 ($1.0023 per common unit) to unitholders. For U.S. federal income tax purposes, SUNC has elected to be taxed as a corporation and, based on current earnings and profits projection, expects 100% of the August distribution to be treated as non-taxable return of capital as SUNC is not estimating to have sufficient current or accumulated earnings and profits in 2026 to cause the distribution to be fully taxable as qualified dividend. At the present time, this represents SunocoCorp LLC's best estimate of the treatment of tax year 2026 distribution.

15 Describe the quantitative effect of the organizational action on the basis of the security in the hands of a U.S. taxpayer as an adjustment per share or as a percentage of old basis ▶ Based on current estimates of SunocoCorp LLC’s earnings and profits, the following distribution is expected to be non-dividend distribution and treated as a return of capital for U.S. federal income tax purposes. A return of capital will applied against the shareholder's basis under Internal Revenue Code 301(c)(2).

Record Date	Payment Date	Cash Distribution Per Unit	Taxable Percentage	Qualified Dividend	ROC Percentage	ROC Basis Adjustment Per Unit
08/07/2026	08/19/2026	$1.0023	0.0000%	$0.0000	100.0000%	$1.0023

16 Describe the calculation of the change in basis and the data that supports the calculation, such as the market values of securities and the valuation dates ▶ A distribution by a corporation is treated as a dividend to the extent it is paid from the corporation’s current or accumulated earnings and profits as defined in Section 316(a). Any portion in excess of current and accumulated earnings and profits would be a non-taxable return of capital and would reduce the holder’s adjusted basis in the units; if a distribution were to exceed the holder’s basis, the excess would be capital gain.
